PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Hello Brooweena Community,

It's hard to believe that there are only two more weeks until Easter holidays!

The students have been very busy completing English assessments. This term we have concentrated on narratives and the quality of the work that they are producing is something for them all to be proud of.

Yesterday we travelled to Mungar State School for our annual cross-country carnival. We'd like to say thank you to Mr Neilsen and the students at Mungar for hosting this event every year. It's a good chance for our students to mix with a bigger school and is always an enjoyable morning. Thank you also to our parents and grandparents for driving the children to the carnival.

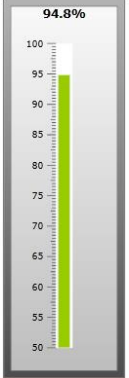

All of the students ran a great race and looked fit thanks to our daily training at school and some training at home. Congratulations to Sean and Sean in year 4 for qualifying to participate at the Maryborough Small Schools Sports Association trials on Thursday 29th April at Tinana Athletics Oval. We wish the boys every success.

Have a great fortnight.

WRITING

Beginning writers typically structure a narrative by adopting a 'beginning, middle and end' approach to story-writing with a simple problem and resolution. As they mature their writing reflects a growing understanding that the middle of the story needs to involve a problem or complication that introduces conflict, danger or tension that must be resolved. It is this uncertainty that draws the reader in and builds suspense.

Students can be inspired by the wide range of narratives they have read, seen and heard, from traditional tales, myths and legends, to realistic adventure and science fiction. They will be familiar with themes like good versus evil, and surviving against the odds. A proficient writer uses these themes as a rich source of ideas for developing a cohesive, engaging story with elaborated characters in an appropriate setting.

We have been reading, analysing and writing stories this term to help build these writing skills.

Our P & C is always looking for great ideas to help fundraise for the school. Our dedicated team of volunteers welcome all suggestions and welcome new members. Phone the school for more information.
